				∴ No mention of the above medal appears in any of the well-known text books. As particulars are given relating to medals awarded by other Chartered Companies, such as the South Africa Company and the Royal Niger Company, as well as by the British North Borneo Company, the medal awarded by the Imperial British East Africa Company for various expeditions between 1888 and 1894 should have been included. This Company received its Royal Charter in 1888 conceding large territories in British East Africa. Capt. F. D. Lugard (later Lord Lugard) and Sir Fredk. Jackson, both of whom wore the medal, were the principal pioneers connected with this Company and were largely responsible for the foundation of—what is now Kenya and Uganda. The British Government assumed the Protectorate of Uganda in 1893 and of the British East Africa Company (Now Kenya) in 1895 in which latter year the Company surrendered its Charter. The Company's Records seem to have disappeared and diligent search has failed to locate any medal roll or regulations for the issue of this medal.
